The 24th Inſtant being the King's Birth-Day, the Grandees and other Perſons of Diſtinction went to Aranjuez, where the Court has reſided for ſome Time, to make their Compliments to their Catholick Majeſties; on which Occaſion Mourning was laid aſide: The Court is expected to return hither in a few Days. The Franciſcans having lately purchaſed the Liberty of a good Number of Captives, and brought them hither from Algiers, they paſſed Yeſterday in Proceſſion before the Royal Palace, the Duke of Fernandina bearing the Standard before the Nobility who were invited to aſſiſt at the Proceſſion. On the 10th Inſtant Madame Royale being recovered, his Majeſty ſet out for the Veneria; and in the Evening, her Majeſty with the Duke D'Aouſte, and the reſt of the Court, went thither, in order to paſs the Summer. The ſame Day the Prince of Piedmont ſet out for Pignerol, where he deſigns to review his Regiment of Dragoons, and then to return to the Veneria.
